

JAMES ROBERT PAGETT SUCCEUMS TO APOPLEXY

Slight Attack of Indigestion
Monday Night Is Followed by Death Tuesday Morning

Mr. James Robert Pagett, for twenty-four years with A. D. Adair and McCarty Brothers, but more recently of the J. R. Pagett, fertilizer works, died at 4:30 o'clock of apoplexy at 430 Forrest avenue.

He complained of indigestion Monday night, but this trouble appeared to be slight. He slept brokenly, and early Tuesday morning his condition was found to be serious. Before physicians could arrive, he sank into a semi-conscious condition, which was followed by death.

Mr. Pagett's health had not been good for a year, but his decline in strength had not been sufficient to interfere with his activity in business. He is survived by his widow, one son, Charles E. Pagett, and two daughters, Miss Annie Lou Pagett and Mrs. S. R. Bridges.

Mr. Pagett was born in Anderson, S. C., August 31, 1859, and moved to Atlanta about 1890. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, and was a member of the Capital City Club.

His death will be the cause of regret to a circle of friends throughout Atlanta and a large part of Georgia.

GIVERS ARE WARNED AGAINST ORIENTALS

J. C. Logan Says Two Solicitors Are at Work on Atlanta Philanthropists

J. C. Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities, has sent out warnings to philanthropically inclined Atlantians to watch out for two Oriental solicitors now in Atlanta who make a practice of collecting funds under the name of missionaries who want money for serving women and children in some part of Asia that they happen to think of.

Fifteen or twenty of such fakery have been through Atlanta in times past, says Mr. Logan, but an active campaign is being waged against them. It was for the elimination of just such graft as this, says Mr. Logan, that he suggested a board of public welfare be created by the city of Atlanta.

CHARLES J. CAMPBELL DIES AT HIS HOME

Succumbs Following Illness of a Week, Leaving Bride of Three Months

Charles J. Campbell, aged twenty-four years, died Tuesday morning at his residence, 35 Crew street, after an illness of one week only.

He is survived by his bride of less than two months, the was Miss Margaret Vigneaux prior to her wedding, which took place on January 10. Mr. Campbell's mother, Mrs. Nora Campbell, and his sister, Miss Mary Campbell, also survive him.

He became ill last Tuesday with pneumonia, and the disease quickly fastened itself on his lungs, death following within a few days.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

THE BILL AT THE FORSYTH AS SEEN BY BREWERTON

THEATERS

Criticisms of theatrical performances at the local theaters are written by members of the Journal staff. Those who appear in this column are chosen by the theater managers.

A laugh and a thrill mark the Forsyth bill this week, with in-between of sufficient entertainment to stack the whole program up as one of the best vaudeville Atlanta has seen this season.

"The System," booked as the headliner, is worthy its playing. Well-acted and well-staged, this intensely interesting sketch of life in the underworld brings to crooks and polliwogs enough to satisfy the most bloodthirsty, while there is a tender little love story running through the whole playlet.

You feel that you should worry when Stan Stanley, the bouncing boy, hurtles through the air with his neck at such an angle that destruction is inevitable, but the next moment he has whirled and struck and you are convulsed with laughter. The bouncing boy looks as if he had just stepped out of a Goldberg cartoon, and that is in the highest compliment we can pay him.

There was much applause when Harry Clarke and the Transatlantic Trio appeared, for Clarke is an old Atlanta boy and his friends were out in force to give him the hand. The banjo is Harry's weapon and he uses it to good effect on a variety of selections, including grand opera.

Other good acts are Mang and Snyder, Raymond and Caverly, Binns and Buck and Grace Wilson.

With the indorsement of every critic in New York, the New Era Producing company will present at the Atlanta for five performances beginning Wednesday, the biggest musical success of this and many seasons. "Adèle" has a cast of metropolitan artists including Carolyn Thomson, Annetta Black, prima donna of the New York Hippodrome for three seasons; Alfred Kappeler, well remembered for his excellent singing and acting in the "Arabian" and the "Waltz Dream." George O'Donnell, a grand opera basso with European and American experience and a score or more of equally important members. "Adèle" is by Paul Herne and Jean Brigue, authors of "Alma," a musical play of French origin, which had a long and successful tour in this country.

MEALS AT ALL HOURS TO BE READY FOR SHRINERS

Continuous Service Will Be Given Visitors in Atlanta
Hotels and Restaurants

Instead of the normal program of "three a day," the public dining rooms of Atlanta will stage continuous performances of their meal service during Shriners' week. Whole regiments of additional waiters, and whole battalions of additional cooks, are to be imported into the city to make this possible.

Even before grand opera week some of the leading hotels will begin this extended service that their workers may be trained by the time the grand opera crowds arrive. When the Shriners and their friends begin to pour into the city a few days later every detail will be smoothed and the big machinery for feeding the hungry will be moving without a hitch.

Plans for this program were discussed by the hotel men of the local association at their meeting a month ago. At biggest hotels informed by the Shriners that they had placed his requisitions several days before, not only for increased supplies, but also for additional help in the kitchen and dining rooms. The restaurant owners lost no time in doing likewise.

Every food purveyor in Atlanta knows how what the city is doing in feeding the crowds coming to the Shriners' week, said Forrest Adams. There can be no danger of famine unless all their plans fall through.

Every backing house located or represented in Atlanta, and every company firm operating in the city, is placing abnormal orders for delivery during Shriners' week.

Columbia Shriners Now Have Mascot Too Many

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)—COLUMBIA, S. C., March 31.—Local Shriners who contemplate attending the grand convention of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, to be held in Atlanta during the week beginning May 11, are up against it. The temple here decided to adorn the Georgia capital in great style, and accordingly put in an order with some animal people for two camels.

Both of the ships of the desert arrived a few days ago. Yesterday another ship came in, when Mrs. Camel presented Mr. Camel with a camel. And now the Columbia Shriners, with three camels on their hands, are wondering what they are going to do with the new arrival.

VICTIM OF ELEVATOR ACCIDENT MAY RECOVER

Walter Moore, 35 years old, a brick mason, 10 Pearl street, who was hurt in an elevator accident in the Anley hotel last Monday night is expected to recover, according to Grady hospital authorities.

His head was badly cut and smashed when the elevator caught him between the ceiling of the basement floor, and the top of the car.

POST FARMERS' NAMES IN ATLANTA POSTOFFICE

To further facilitate the dealings between producer and consumer so far as the parcel post is concerned, Postmaster General Burdette has advised Postmaster Bolling H. Jones to place in a conspicuous place in the postoffice a list of farmers who are offering produce, butter and eggs for sale.

This experiment is being tried in several large cities. As fast as names are sent to Mr. Jones they will be printed and placed on the bulletin board in the corridor.

B'NAI B'RITH LODGE TO CLOSE ANNUAL SESSION

Fortieth Convention of Order
Held in Atlanta Proves Unusually Interesting

The fortieth annual convention of District Grand Lodge No. 1 of the Independent Order of B'nei B'rith, which has been in session in Atlanta since Sunday, will close Tuesday afternoon.

The morning session was devoted to winding up of routine affairs consuming most of the time. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and the delegates will reassemble at 3 in the afternoon for a farewell session before adjourning.

The convention has been unusually interesting this year, and the large number of delegates have entered enthusiastically into plans for future enlargement of the order's work.

Many will doubt this, but it is nevertheless a fact that the order is being figured out. For three years prior to her starting tour in "Alma" Miss Flack was the prima donna at the Hippodrome in New York City, and she knows it is next to impossible to get a seat at any performance.

The capacity of that world-famous playhouse is 3,600, without standing room. There are twelve in performance a week which would mean playing to 43,200 people. There are forty weeks to the season. This total gives 1,728,000 patrons per year, making a grand total of $684,000 in three years.

During the tour of "Alma" capacity houses greeted this well known success from coast to coast, so it is computed that a half million people saw it during the forty weeks the company was on tour, bringing the total up to $684,000.

Since the opening of "Alma" more than 350,000 people have witnessed this really excellent production, making the grand total in the neighborhood of $1,034,000 to whom Miss Flack has sung.

Rain Prevented Local Game; Crackers Lost to Braves

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "DRESSED FOR COLD WEATHER" A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

Rain Prevented Game; Crackers Lost to Braves

Heavy Downpour Began as Naps and Dents Were Practicing—Two Doubles by Deal and Gowdy Win Macon Game in Sixth Inning

A rattling, pouring, torrential rain, beginning just as the two teams were getting ready for fielding practice, prevented any combat at Ponce de Leon Monday afternoon, between the Naps and a mixed team of Crackers and players. Elliott Dent was handling the local bunch, and was preparing to send his stalwarts into the field for a bit of practice when the downpour began. Jack Douscher had just tipped Manager Dent off to the fact that Manager Hurlingham intended to lend him Nick Cullins to go to the pithing, together with Jack Jackson and Nap Lajoie. Dent was jubilant at the announcement that his crew would surely win that old ball game.

Owing to the heavy rainfall it is very doubtful whether any game will be played today. However, should the sun come out and dry things off a bit before 2 o'clock, the two teams will meet this afternoon. Both the Naps and the Crackers are pulling for better luck tomorrow. In other words, the game scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday may be played. So far the Naps have had five games scheduled here of which only one has been played, due to unfavorable weather.

That Macon game produced some good hitting on both sides. The Crackers made just four safe takes off of Ruppel while Browning and Perryman held the Braves to safety. Two doubles bunched off of the former in the fourth scored the only runs in the contest. Except for that one instance, the Crackers were never dangerous. Macrahan and Evers each grabbed two hits.

Manager Bill Smith and Joe Dunn had a run-in with Empire Ankle Moran in the sixth, and both were banished. However, Han Reynolds had already been put in and taken out of the game for hitting Moran for Browning in the first half of this season, and the Crackers had no catcher left. So Dunn was allowed to bat. The trouble arose over decisions on strikes to Gilbert, whereby the Boston granger was sent to walk.

Manager Smith changed his line-up in the seventh game. He sent out shifts in his batting order. Harry Holland was sent in at short, leaving the batting order with McConnell second, Macrahan third, and Evers fourth. The other followed in the order used in former contests.

Suit Against Pittsburgh Feds
PITTSBURGH, March 31.—A foreign attachment in a suit in assumption against the Exposition Park association, owners of the Pittsburgh Federal league baseball club, was entered in federal court here today by Charles H. McGowan, who claims the association is indebted to him for $4,000 for salary and expenses for selling stock. Three local banks and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad were named as guaranties. The suit was directed to attach the land and the Federal league franchise the National League and the American league in the hands of the guaranties. Bail to dissolve the attachment was set at $4,000.

Reds' Regulars Turtles Blank
MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31.—Idebhardt and Steele, pitching for the Memphis Southern League team, were ineffective at all stages of Monday's game against the Chicago White Sox.

Memphis won, 4 to 0. Seven of the hits and all of the runs were made by the three innings Brown pitched.

Committee Considers Proposition to Stage Contest on New Palmer Stadium This Fall

NEW YORK, March 31.—Several army and navy officers representing the athletic associations of West Point and Annapolis, who met here to discuss possible places for holding the Army-Navy football game next November, expect to visit Princeton today to learn what arrangements might be made for staging the contest within the new Palmer stadium, which will be completed before fall. Princeton is said to be the navy's second choice if West Point refuses to host the game. The committee reached no agreement yesterday and it was considered likely that the final selection might have to be made by the second of the month.

West Point wants the game played on the Polo grounds in this city again, but the navy objects to the long trip here. Franklin field of the University of Pennsylvania virtually was eliminated from further consideration, it was said.

The conference today included Lieutenant Philip Mathews and Lieutenant J. K. Jamison, for the army, and J. A. Pierce and R. M. Comford, for the navy.

Outfielder Dion's tryst with the Oakland club lasted thirty-five minutes and forty-two seconds. This is the youngest record in the history of the game, so persistently to Devil declaring that he had been playing with the New Haven club, and in Maine, and that his only trouble had been that he had suffered a cold. Kid Sullivan and Manager Devin took turns batting first in the Oakland series, with Devin finally for fear that the boy might beat himself.

The "hammer brigade" which went to his house last year for evidence, lay around the fighting "crust" in Chicago. The hammer brigade was just what he needed. Chase had fallen into lax ways, but this spring he has assumed the Chicago series with the brilliancy of his work and the return of his remarkable agility and aggressiveness.

Scott Billy Doyle announced last week that his hands had been washed and Friction, Ohio, were to open the season with a game at the home of the structure are Dick Smith, Charles Rickman and Pete Childs.

ONCE MIGHTY CUBS NO JOKE OF GAME—FULLERTON

NEW YORK, March 31.—At a meeting of the American Olympic committee held last night at the New York Athletic club and presided over by Colonel Robert M. Thompson, financial executive, selector and general committee were appointed as well as a committee of ten delegates to the international Olympic congress, which will assemble June 15 at Paris.

The delegates appointed are Colonel Thompson, James E. Sullivan, W. R. Greer, Hammond and J. G. Manning, all of this city; Everett C. Brown, Chicago; Alfred J. Lilly, president of the Amateur Athletic union, and Joseph H. MacCabe, Boston; Lieutenant R. L. Lanning, Washington, D. C., and one other, to be named later.

Prof. William M. Sloane, of Columbia university, Dr. G. R. Manning, and James Sullivan were named as a committee on publicity to inform the European public of the American Olympic athletes. Prof. Sloane said that during a recent visit to Europe he found that many believe the American committee paid all the traveling expenses of the athletes, whereas they only assume responsibility for the expenses after the men selected had reported here ready for the trip.

A vote on the advisability of women taking part in competitions showed that those in favor of women were in the majority. The vote was 10 to 2 in favor of women competing only in archery, etc.

It was decided to call upon all athletic clubs, colleges and schools throughout the country to follow the plan suggested by the New York Athletic club to raise a national Olympic fund by donating a certain sum of money in addition to voluntary subscriptions.

The game was rather slow at times, but several sensational catches by the visiting outfielders, to the detriment of the hitting of the home team, kept the game interesting. The two teams will play a second game on Saturday.

Herzog Would Work Catchers In Their Turns

New Manager of Cincinnati Reds Does Not Believe in Holding One Receiver in Reserve While Another Does Nearly All the Work—Thinks Practice Harmful

ALEXANDRIA, La., March 31.—Herzog and Tinker agree to a dot on one point—that at least two catchers should be worked right along, keeping both in actual playing practice, and that the "second catcher" should not be left rusting on the bench. This old, old idea of having one man catch every day was only going into double-heads, has been overdone. No member of a team needs the strenuous work of a game more than a catcher, and all the morning practice would make up for lack of action. The second catcher should be doing all the catching, but the second catcher would be in the outfield, thus at least keeping him in playing shape.

Chief Zimmer once caught a whole season, and the second catcher, Tommy Downes, passed out almost inured of work. The second catcher should be doing all the catching, but the second catcher would be in the outfield, thus at least keeping him in playing shape.

Coach Nickalls Favors Strict Training Rules

English Instructor of Penn's Crew Candidates Prescribes Daily Routine for His Charges—Also Names Very Limited Diet and Forbids Dancing

NEW YORK, March 31.—Whatever may be the training customs in English athletics it is evident that Vivian Nickalls, the new crew coach at the University of Pennsylvania, does not intend to depart radically from methods in vogue at Pennsylvania in past years. It has been frequently stated "abroad" that the English training methods are more rigorous than those observed in college athletic circles in this country. It is explained therefore that the success of the American athletes is due to the fact that he makes a business of what is viewed abroad as a luxury or recreation.

Coach Nickalls does not apparently share these views, or at least believes in the proverb, "When thou art at home do as the Romans." He has laid down as strict a set of rules and in-laws as Charles Courtney, the crew captain at Harvard, who is also a crew coach. The printed rules cover everything from the diet of the men to the fact that they must run a mile after breakfast. The distance to be prescribed by Nickalls, should it be deemed too harsh, is a mile, or a mile and a half, which are in part as follows:

Hours, 10:30; rise in the morning; 7:30; breakfast; 8:15; lunch; 11:15; dinner; 7:30; on the river, either by canoe or by boat. The men must have breakfast, the distance to be prescribed by Nickalls, should it be deemed too harsh, is a mile, or a mile and a half, which are in part as follows:
